

Leaping Letters

A Three-Letter Words Game

The librarian has locked up all of the “naughty” books in the library. Books will use letters in their titles to escape.

Players compete to form 3-letter words that follow specific patterns (1st, 2nd or 3rd letter position).

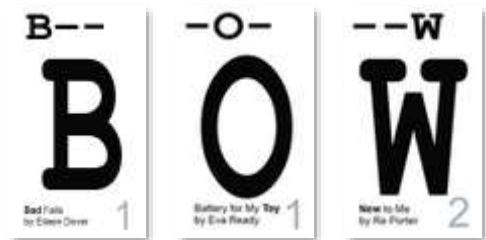

Setup:

- Deal three letter cards as the community pile
- Deal five letter cards as each player’s hand
- Return all library cards for reuse.

Game Play:

- Think of a three-letter word
- Use a book title’s letter card
- Remove one community card
- Leap your letter into the designated position
- Rearrange the other two letters
- Call out your new three-letter word
- Claim a library card matching the word score
- Repeat. Playing in rounds.

Each round ends when any player depletes their hand. The winner of each round collects a key card. Play until someone collects five keys and escapes. Solo mode instructions included.

Components:

- 90 Title Cards (A-Z)
- 40 Library Cards,
- 30 Keys or Key Cards.
- Travel and full-size formats.

A quick word building game for the whole family.
